HIS MIND RETURNS

Charles Brewin Suddenly Re-members After Four Years.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Charles P. Brewin, the Burlington, N. J., tailor who wandered away from home and family four years ago and was found recently working in a dyeing and cleaning establishment in Plainfield, came to a realization of his surroundings Sunday.

Brewin, who is supposed to have been a sufferer from aphasia, a mental disorder which deprives its victim of memory antedating a certain time, has been unable to recall the incidents in his earlier life.

Yesterday Dr. Buchanan, a Burlington physician, and his father called upon Brewin. Both had known the sufferer long ago. At sight of them, Brewin started, "something broke in his head," as he put it and a flood of light illuminated the past. He thought he had left home the day before and spoke of events which took place at the time of his disappearance as though not more than 24 hours had intervened. He asked for members of his family and begged to be taken to them at once.

Things Not to Do at Table.
Erasmus, the old Dutch philosopher and theologian, in his curious essay "On Behavior at Meals," remarks that it is "very rude to blow one's nose on the tablecloth" or to "wipe one's fingers on one's neighbor's coat." He also advises the guest "not to give dogs your bones to crack under the table or feed the cat or encourage animals to jump on the table. This may offend your host or lead to the soiling of his carpet." An admonition that might well be observed in the present day. "Above all," he says, "do not lick your plate. It is an act that ill becomes a cat, let alone a gentleman."

Dogs and Drinking Water.
Who has not at some time or other envied the impunity with which a dog drinks brackish water that no human being dare touch? Civilized communities have solved the problem of a pure water supply so completely that they cannot get on without pure water. Dogs by elimination of those most readily poisoned by bad water have become as a race immune to bad water. In this case the checking of natural selection does not matter, because the supply of good water can probably always be secured.—London Post.

Not Impressed.
Bibliophile (aghast)—I beg your pardon, madam, but that book your little girl is playing with is an old and exceedingly rare first edition. Caller—Oh, that's all right, Mr. Vibbert. It will amuse her just as much as if it were nice and new.—Chicago Tribune.

Willing to Help.
"Willie was an only child, whose parents lived on a farm. He often grew very lonely and longed for a playmate. One day he asked his mamma why she didn't get him a little brother. Mother replied, 'Willie, babies are too much trouble to tend.' 'Say, mamma, if you'll plant him, I'll hoe him.'—Lippincott's.

For more than 30 years it has been curing Female Complaints, such as Inflammation, and Ulceration. Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, Backache, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

Records show that it has cured more cases of Female Ills than any other one remedy known.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage of development. Dragging Sensations causing pain, weight, and headache are relieved and permanently cured by its use.

It corrects Irregularities or Painful Functions, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility; also, Dizziness, Faintness, Extreme Lassitude. "Don't care and want to be left alone" feeling, Irritability, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Flatulency, Melancholia or the "Blues." These are sure indications of female weakness or some organic derangement.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a most excellent remedy.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Her advice is free and always helpful.
